Creative Writing Workshops Spring 2024

 26/02/2024 (Mon)  4:30-6:30pm  LKK108

Session One - Getting Started and Carrying On

Prompts to get You Writing and Keep You Writing and Finding Your Voice

Part 1. A series of prompts and techniques to get you writing and help you keep going.

Part 2. A series of activities to help participants look inward and discover and develop their voice. We'll use exercises and examples from master poets and storytellers to help writers focus on imagery, narrative and point of view as participants develop their poems and/or stories.

Part 3. Participants wishing to share their work will be offered feedback as time permits.

Session Two - Developing characters, dialogue and narrative

Part 1. What is a character? How to create interesting characters, dialogue and action? This session will focus on writing stories and scripts. The activities will help participants develop characters, dialogue and narrative as well as explore the preferred formats for writing plays and screenplays, learning what makes a "script" a script.

Part 2. Participants will be offered feedback on their work as time permits.
