What can you do with your English degree? A Glimpse into Careers in the Arts, Cultural and Heritage Sector in Hong Kong

It is a truth universally acknowledged, that everyone in possession of a BA English degree, must have been asked at least once ‘Will you be an English teacher?’. Well, the answer can be yes. But one of our alumni answered no.

On the occasion of the Hong Kong Art March 2024, the Department of English is excited to bring to you a casual sharing session hosted by an early-career alumna who is now working in the exciting but at times demanding arts, cultural and heritage sector. Vanessa (BACES 2020) will share with us her own career path so far and some unusual experiences and stories. In this session, we will get to hear some interesting career stories at home and abroad and learn about:

- The arts, cultural and heritage sector in Hong Kong
- Short-term positions and youth programmes
- Internships
- Jobs
- Volunteering
- Further education

If you want to know more about alternatives for English degree holders, come and join us!
