Background

With the full resumption of normal travel with the Mainland and the rest of the world, Hong Kong's tourism industry has been progressively recovering. The Tourism Commission and The Hong Kong Federation of Youth Groups would continue collaboration with local schools through the "Hong Kong Young Ambassador Scheme", providing opportunities for students to extend Hong Kong's warm welcome to visitors.

Since its inception in 2001, the Scheme has enrolled more than 5,400 young people to promote Hong Kong's hospitality and share Hong Kong's stories. The Scheme not only provides a series of training and service experiences to participants, but also gives them the opportunity to explore their interests and unleash their potentials.

Young Ambassadors will greet visitors and help them with travel information at popular tourist spots such as Ocean Park Hong Kong, Hong Kong Wetland Park and Ngong Ping 360. They will also provide support at a large array of mega events, ranging from sports and entertainment events to arts and cultural extravaganzas such as the "International Chinese New Year Night Parade" and "Cheung Chau Bun Festival”, and also help organise promotional activities for locals and non-locals to discover the tourism appeal of Hong Kong.
